Hate, love, hate! (A day in India, India, India) A lovely film about how love affects people around us in a simple yet effective way!.. It doesn't have any action scenes in it – just a couple of scenes about how they are dealing with these negative things that happen around them. And it deals fairly well with everything that's going on in a person's life, whether it's a man losing love for a woman, a person trying to take drugs, or a woman who is in love with a man who tries to abandon her, as she is in love with these people.
